Happy Thanksgiving grandma Rita, We miss you so much. On this day for the past 24 years of my life I've always been with you. Today, on the 25th year, you are no longer here. It's so difficult to be without you everyday, but especially today. This day holds so many memories. I don't even need to close my eyes to see you standing there in the kitchen laughing. I miss you grandma, With all my heart. Happy Thanksgiving. Love, Samantha

Rita, today would be your 84th birthday. It is a beautiful time of year, with leaves so colorful and the air warm and dry by day and cool and crisp at night. It reminds me of the warmth you gave to all of us and your gratitude for all you had in life. Whether by phone or in person we always had a good laugh and lively conversations. It was such a delight washing and drying the pots and pans with you after Thanksgiving dinner. We were a great team! It will never be the same. To quote you: "Till I see you again – God willing."

Mom, you are never far from our thoughts each day. There are so many things that bring you to mind but what is hardest of all is the wish to hear your voice at the other end of the phone one more time. All of us share that thought that when the phone rings we wish it were you asking us one more time, "How is the weather there? " Now maybe, you can make every day our sunny day. Mom, thinking of you every hour of every day. I find comfort looking up to the heavens and knowing that you are there, that you are at peace and liberated from your distress and that you are looking down on me and my children keeping us all safe and sound. I love you today and every day. Love, Ilene
