“ To the entire family, you are in my thoughts and prayers. May Debbie’s memory always be for a blessing??I am unable to attend the service, but I will be there with you all in spirit.I’d like to leave you with something that was shared with me upon the passing of my mother-in-law. It brought me great comfort to think of her in the way the poem written by Ellen Brenneman explains... I have switched the pronouns/gender (from the original poem) to reflect the beautiful wife, daughter, sister, mother, friend and woman, who has left us grieving. May she rest in Peace!For Debra:Her Journey’s Just Begun – Don’t think of her as gone away her journey’s just begun, life holds so many facets this earth is only one.Just think of her as resting from the sorrows and the tears in a place of warmth and comfort where there are no days and years.Think how she must be wishing that we could know today how nothing but our sadness can really pass away.And think of her as living in the hearts of those she touched... for nothing loved is ever lost and she he was loved so much.??
